

Participants practice their jumping and timing skills by jumping over a rope being swung on the ground by other participants.

Instructions

- Break participants into groups of four or five.
- One participant take a long jump rope and spin, with the rope staying low to the ground.
- Other participants try to jump over the rope as it spins around.
- Encourage participants to change roles.